

SAMPLE CHARACTER ANALYSIS GRAPHIC ORGANIZER

Name: _____ Hour: ____

CLAIM - include Title Author & Genre (T.A.G.) In the _____ fiction novel, _____, written by _____, Character proves to the reader time and time again that he/she is a very (character trait) character.
Reason 1: (Lead with a transition) One indirect characterization method that _____ uses to describe _____'s character is through his/her actions.	Reason 2: (Lead with a transition) Another method the author uses to express _____ is (character trait) is through his speech.	Reason 3: (Lead with a transition) Finally, _____'s (character trait) nature can be seen through his/her effects on others.
Evidence to support above reason	Evidence to support above reason	Evidence to support above reason
Explain your evidence (This shows)	Explain your evidence (This shows)	Explain your evidence (This shows)
Conclusion: Throughout the novel, the reader can clearly see that _____'s dialogue, his/her actions, and his/her effects on others make him/her a truly (character trait) character.		